

A Nationwide Resource. Committed to Shared Values.

The American Thrombosis and Hemostasis Network (ATHN) is a non-profit organization committed to advancing and improving care for individuals affected by bleeding and clotting disorders.

ATHN has partnered with over 130 HTC's to establish a safe, secure national database—and to create the ATHNdataset—with an aim to:

- Gain a better understanding of the issues affecting patients and families—including the development of inhibitors;
- Increase knowledge of the genetics and natural history of blood disorders;
- Study treatment and develop standards of care;
- Keep a close watch on FDA approved therapies; and
- Increase community support and education.

As of today, over 10,000 patients have joined the effort. There's strength in numbers. Make your data count. It's confidential, simple and secure.

Ask your HTC how you can join today.
Visit www.athn.org to learn more.

ATHN follows all HIPAA privacy guidelines to keep personal health information confidential.

“Participation defines a database's success: the more the community uses it, the more it can give back.”

— HTC Physician

athn.org